IKE WALTON'S GHOST SHOULD GASP AT THIS

Riviera, Fla., Aug. 8.—When he was awakened by a splash of cold water on his face today, John Roper knew his long-distance fishing outfit was functioning. He leaped from bed, hastened to the nearby dock and dragged forth an eight-foot shark. His outfit consisted of a stout fishing line extending from a baited hook in the lake to a bucket of water suspended over his pillow.

About 500,000 curry combs are sold annually in Canada.

Wetaskiwin Drops Out of Race for Provincial Title

The Provincial Senior Amateur Baseball Championship aspirations of the Wetaskiwin Athletics were rudely dispersed when on Sunday last the Edmonton Athletics won the fifth and deciding game in the series. While naturally disappointed, the local team and its many supporters are not discouraged and are already looking forward to greater success next season. The management of the local team is to be congratulated on their successful efforts to place baseball again to the forefront here, as evinced by the large crowds in attendance at the series on the local grounds, and the players are to be commended on the splendid class of ball dashed up. There is every probability that next season Wetaskiwin will have a berth in the Edmonton City League, which will guarantee bang-up baseball throughout the season. There is a

PICNIC AT BATTLE RIVER COMMUNITY PARK

A community picnic was held at the Park on Wednesday, August 3rd. The first item on the program was a baseball game, Battle River vs. Haultain, which was won by the former. This was followed by lunch, coffee being provided by the Sports Committee.

The next event was the important one of the day, an address by Wm. Irvine, M.P., with E. Reimer in the chair. Mr. Irvine dealt with the absurdity of allowing starvation to exist in the land of plenty, and the impossibility of finding markets for our surplus markets. The non-existence of markets was caused by lack of purchasing power in the hands of the people. This lack of purchasing power was largely caused by banks, which have the privilege of issuing all money, and withdrawing money from circulation. The banks do this in order to protect their profits regardless of the interests of the people. Mr. Irvine urged that the power of issuing money be placed in the hands of Parliament and that the cur of currency issued shall bear a relation to the amount of goods and services available as ascertained by the Bureau of Statistics. In this way price levels can be brought back to the level of the war period when most debts were contracted.

The address was listened to by a very attentive audience.

When sports were resumed, Malm and Haultain played a men's softball game, Malm winning.

A number of races were arranged for boys and girls of all ages. A collection for sport prizes was taken. The nigger sideshow proved to be very popular.

The girls from Battle River and Haultain played softball, Battle River again winning. Battle River also won a baseball game with Malm.

It was a great day's work for a large crowd of people, and it was blessed with a rainstorm after the people had gone home.

Gus Suys contracted for the catering.

A nice sum was cleared to be used in the development of the park.

FIELD DAY TO BE HELD AT NELS LINDEN'S FARM

A Field Day will be held on Nels Linden's farm, Thursday, August 18. The program commences at 2 p.m. sharp with view over seed plots, rod rows and fields. The speaker will be L. H. Newman, Dominion Cerealist; Prof. W. G. Wiener, secretary of the Canadian Seed Growers' Association, and ex-Cerealist Manitoba Agricultural College; G. E. Do Lombe, assistant superintendent Lacombe Experimental Farm; E. L. Gray, Field Crop Commissioner, Department of Agriculture; and Dr. O. S. Amond, Prof. of Genetics, University of Alberta, and secretary Alberta Branch Canadian Seed Growers' Association. Everybody welcome. Bring your lunch basket, coffee and lemonade served free.

The Crooked Lake U.F.A. meeting will be served in the evening.

Weddings

STEINKNE-GOUCHY

On Sunday, July 31st, a pretty wedding took place at Sexsmith, when Miss Martha Gouchy, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gouchy of Sexsmith, was united in holy matrimony to Henry Steinkne, also of Sexsmith, formerly of Wetaskiwin. The ceremony was officiated. The bride was being accompanied in lemon crepe with hat to match. Miss Marian Gouchy, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, and Fred Steinkne, brother of the groom, was best man. A wedding supper was served at the home of the bride's parents, with the immediate relatives present.

On August 4th, an enjoyable wedding dance was held, about three hundred people attending. The hall had been beautifully decorated in pink and white streamers and wedding bells. Excellent music was furnished by Hedman's Orchestra of Grande Prairie. At 3 a.m. after the singing of "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows," all departed for their homes, wishing the happy couple all success and happiness for the future. Mr. and Mrs. Steinkne are spending their honeymoon at Bawit.

LACOMBE COUPLE HURT IN TRAFFIC ACCIDENT

Lacombe, Aug. 10.—Victims of a crash between two cars and a heavy gravel truck, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Laird of Lacombe are in hospital here. Mr. Laird is suffering from cuts about the face and fractures of three ribs, and Mrs. Laird is badly cut about the face. The accident occurred three miles from Ponoka at the intersection of the main highway and a cross road.

PRINCE OF WALES' TOMBSTONE MONUMENT TO "MISSING" ON SOMME

Thiepval, France, Aug. 4.—"Let us advance to new conquests—to the conquests of world peace and international amity." This was the challenge delivered by the Prince of Wales at the unveiling today of the final British monument in France to the 1,100,000 men of the Empire who lost their lives in the Great War.

In the shadow of the huge triumphal pyramid of the archways which the Imperial War Graves Commission has erected to the honor of 73,000 missing men in the Battle of the Somme, the Prince referred to the Franco-British brotherhood in the war years.

EDMONTON GIRL LOSES HER LIFE IN GULL LAKE

Drowned while bathing, Olga Osman, 20, of Edmonton, lost her life in the waters of Gull Lake Monday evening.

Her body was recovered at 5:45 p.m., but doctors found life extinct. She had been in the water over half an hour.

Employed by Professor Charles W. Robb, the girl had left the beach cottage at 4:15 p.m. and announced her intention of going swimming. At 5:30 her overlong absence was noticed, and inquiry showed that a neighbor had seen the girl wading in deep water.

A search was started and W. R. Hewson, M.L.A., one of the searchers, found the body at 5:45.

So far as is known Miss Osman had only one relative in Canada, an uncle named Birchall at Hay Lakes, who has been notified.

Mystery surrounds the cause of the tragedy, but it is believed that Miss Osman was either stricken by a cramp or waded beyond her depth and became panic-stricken on discovering her predicament.

WEEKLY STOCK MARKET REPORT

The following is a weekly report of the Edmonton stock market, as supplied to The Times for the week ending August 9th:

Receipts: Cattle, 831; Calves, 55; Hogs, 298; Sheep, 633.

Receipts during this past week have been somewhat burdensome, especially as the quality of the offerings are not of the best, are in fact mostly on the plain order. The demand is not too brisk as buyers are showing an indifferent attitude, in consequence trading has been on the slow order and the market generally dull and draggy on all classes of butchers except good ones, which have shown good action. Prices on good and choice kinds remain about steady, but on the plainer ones values are showing a weaker undertone. Following are the ruling prices:

The general run of good butcher steers $3.50 to $3.75 with choice up to $4.00, medium $3.00 to $3.25, and common to fair $1.50 to $2.50. Choice light weight hutter heifers quoted up to $4.00, bulk of good kinds $3.25 to $3.50, medium -2.75 to $3.00, good heavy $2.75 to $3.00, and common to fair $1.50 to $2.50. Good to choice cows $2.00 to $2.50, common to fair $1.00 to $1.75. Canners and cutters 50c to $1.00 and butts 50c to $1.00.

Stocks especially the better grades, are moving fairly readily at about steady and unchanged values. Steers and heifers at $2.75 to $3.00 and odd ones up to $3.25 for good kinds, common to fair $1.50 to $2.50. Stockers close 75c to $1.75.

Calves remain steady under fair action. Good to choice $3.50 to $4.00 and a shade more for really choice. Common to medium $2.00 to $3.00 and odd ones up to $3.25 for good kinds, common to fair $1.50 to $2.50. Hogs unsteady and showing weaker undertone as compared with the close of the week. Today (Tuesday) some sold, buyers bidding $4.00 for the carload hogs and fat watered and $3.75 for the trucked in hogs. Selects a premium of 50c per cwt., and butchers discounted 50c per cwt. Cuts on the off grades remain the same and as follows: Heavies $1.00 per cwt. extra heavy and No. 1, 1.25 to $1.75 per cwt. No. 2, 1.25 to $1.75 per cwt. No. 3, 1.25 to $1.75 per cwt. Safe Cars -- and Reckless Drivers

Between six and seven o'clock on Tuesday morning is the safest hour of the week to ride in an automobile. The most dangerous hour is between five and six o'clock on Sunday afternoon. Automobile accidents happen most frequently in broad daylight, on clear days, when roads are dry. If the driver of the car is between 20 and 30 years old, the chances of an accident are 81 per cent greater than if he is between 40 and 50.

These are some surprising and little known facts about automobile accidents brought out by an analysis recently completed by United States insurance statisticians. They relate, of course, to that country, but inasmuch as conditions in Canada and the United States are so similar in many respects it is possible that we would not be far astray, if in the absence of detailed information relating to Canada, these figures were applied to the Dominion as well.

What are the causes behind the rapidly increasing hazards of motor, ing? In at least nine out of ten automobile accidents, the cause can be traced directly to an error made either by a driver or a pedestrian. Only once in 20 times is the machine definitely at fault. The commonest mistakes made by a driver, leading to a fatality, are driving off the roadway, exceeding the speed limit for the time and place, and going ahead without having the right of way. Other important factors in accidents caused by drivers are: Reckless driving, driving on the wrong side of the road, skidding, cutting in, passing on a curve or hill, and failing to signal properly. Left turns are far more dangerous than right turns.

The "weaving driver," "the speeder," and the "road hog" are the three types of motorists who cause most highway accidents. Among pedestrians, those who cross the street in the middle of the block, walk in the direction of traffic on country roads, or step out into the street from behind parked cars are responsible for a majority of accidents in which those on foot are struck by passing autos.

In only 56,230 cases, out of 1,281,400 accidents studied, were the crashes due to mechanical failure. When the cars were at fault, defective brakes led to the list as a cause. In the order named, other defects contributed to the accident toll: Lack of chains on slippery roads, blowouts and punctures, one or both headlights out, defective steering gear, glaring headlights, tailights out or obstructed.

If you ask most people under what road conditions a majority of auto accidents occur, you will probably be told: "icy roads" or "wet streets." As a matter of fact, the insurance company experts found that only three per cent of the 1931 accidents occurred on icy surfaces and less than 16 per cent of wet surfaces. In 81 per cent of all mishaps, the roads were dry. Also, 85 out of every 100 accidents resulting in deaths occurred under clear weather conditions. And most accidents happened in daylight.

When a motorist starts on a ride if he meets with an accident, the chances that it will occur before he gets out of the driveway are one to 200. The chances of its occurring on a railroad crossing are slightly greater; of its happening on a bridge, one to 100; of its taking place on a curve, one to 25; on a state highway, one to five; and at a street crossing, one to two and a half.

What kind of drivers are most frequently in accidents? Young or old, experienced or inexperienced? Figures compiled in the survey upset some popular beliefs. For instance, they show that more than 91 per cent of all drivers involved in accidents which resulted in fatalities or injuries were experienced motorists with a year or more practice at the wheel. Over-confidence is given as a major reason for the high percentage of experienced motorists who figured in mishaps.

So far as age is concerned, the most hazardous time for automobile driving is under 20. The accident record of drivers under this age, last year, was 39 per cent worse than the average. The record of those between 20 and 30 was 26 per cent worse than the average; between 30 and 40, three per cent better than the average; between 40 and 50, 29 per cent better; and beyond 50, 36 per cent better.

While it is still a disputed point whether the increasing average speed of automobiles and the lifting of the speed limit on country roads is causing more accidents, the investigation shows undeniably that the stepping

I Like the Depression--No More Prosperity for Me!

This article came to us in the mail. From whence it came or by who written we do not know. But it is clever, and embodies a large amount of common-sense, and philosophy. And these two things plus a smile are what we need just now. So we are passing it along.

I Like the Depression

I like the depression. No more prosperity for me. I have had more fun since the depression started than I ever had in my life. I had forgotten how to live, what it meant to have real friends, what it was like to eat common, everyday food. Fact is, I was getting a little too high hat.

Then and Now

Three years ago only one man of our outfit could be out of town at a time and he had to leave at the last minute and get back as soon as possible. Many times I have driven 100 miles to a banquet, sat through 3 hours of bunk in order to make a 5-minute speech, then drive the 100 miles back so as to be ready for work next morning. Nowadays we make these trips and we stay as long as we want to. The whole outfit could leave the office now and it wouldn't make any difference.

Time, Neighbors

It's great to drop into a store and feel that you have spent an hour or two or three or half a day just visiting and not feel that you are wasting valuable time. I like the depression. I am getting acquainted with my neighbors. In the last six months I have become acquainted with folks who have been living next door to me for three years. I am following the Biblical admonition: "Love your neighbors." One of my neighbors has one of the best-looking wives I have ever seen. She is a dandy. I am getting acquainted with my neighbors and learning to love them. I like the depression.

The Wife

Three years ago I was so busy and my wife was so busy that we didn't see much of each other, consequently we sort of lost interest in each other. I never went home to lunch. About twice a week I went home at dinner—at 5:30 o'clock. I never had any time to go anywhere with her. If I did go on a party, I never could locate her. Since there was always a "blonde" or a "red head" available, I didn't worry much about it. My wife belonged to all the clubs in town. She even joined the young mother's club. We didn't have any children but she was studying—and between playing bridge and going to clubs she was never home. We got stuck up and high falutin'. We even took down the old family bed and bought a set of twin beds—on the installment plan. When I went home at night, if my wife was at home, she would already be in her bed and I would crawl into mine. If she came in last, it was vice versa.

We like the depression. We have up of speeds has increased the seriousness of accidents when they have occurred. Incidentally, too, researchers just made by the Chicago Motor Club reveal that travelling a mile a minute in three times as expensive as motoring 45 miles an hour. The extra 15 miles an hour trebles the upkeep costs of the car.

With such facts in mind as have been established by this survey, motor car drivers should govern themselves accordingly, and by so doing they may save themselves much sorrow. First, check over your car for defects which it has been shown are the chief cause of accidents resulting from mechanical weakness. Then note the principal causes of accidents due to the driver himself, when and where they are most likely to take place, and the steps that should be taken to prevent them taking place. If an accident takes place, the responsibility is, first and foremost, your own; secondly, the driver of the other car; thirdly, the condition of your own car; fourthly, the condition of the other fellow's car. Therefore, it is up to you to prevent an accident.

come down off our pedestal and are really living at home now. The twin beds are stored in the garage and the family affair is being used. We are enjoying life. Instead of taking a hot water bottle to bed these cold nights she sticks her heels in my back, just like she did before Bennett was elected.

I haven't been out on a party for eighteen months. I have lost my book of telephone numbers. My wife has dropped all her chums. I believe we are falling in love all over again. I am pretty well satisfied with my wife. Think I will keep her, at least until she is forty and then if I feel like it I do now, I may trade her for two twenties. I am feeling better since the depression. I take more exercise. I walk to town and a lot of folks who used to drive Cadillacs are walking with me. I like the depression.

I am getting real honest-to-goodness food. Three years ago we had filed mignon once a week. Now we have a round steak with flour gravy. Then we had roast breast of guinea hen; now we are glad to get sow-bosom with the buttons on it.

I like the depression. My salary has been cut to where I can't afford to buy lettuce and spinach and parsley and we can't afford to have sidewalk and frozen desserts and all the damfoolishness which has killed more good men than the World War.

I like the depression. Three years ago I never had time to go to church. I played golf all day Sunday, and besides I was so darned smart there was no preacher in West Texas who could tell me anything. Now I am going to church regularly; never miss a Sunday. And if this depression keeps on, I will be going to prayer meeting before long. I like the depression. — Petrolia Advertiser-Topic

BRITISH TRAINS SPEEDING UP

Following the record-breaking runs of their crack trains, the Cheltenham Flyer and the Flying Scotsman, the Great Western Railway and the London and North Eastern Railway respectively have projected "the fastest train service ever offered to the travelling public."

A new European rail speed record was established by the London, Midland and Scottish Railway, when as part of a sweeping programme of train accelerations the Mancelnier was expressed to make the 177 miles from Wilmshurst, near Manchester, to London (Euston) in 172 minutes, at an average speed of 61.7 miles per hour.

This is asserted to be the longest non-stop railway journey in Europe to be scheduled at more than 60 miles per hour.

The new record run forms part of a comprehensive speed-up whereby 2,026 L.M.S. trains will be accelerated by a total amount of 6,424 minutes daily.

DO YOU KNOW THAT

FOR A CENT PER PERSON PER MEAL

you can Cook Electrically

Because ELECTRIC COOKING seems such a luxury, most people think that it must be expensive. But, like all other electric services, ELECTRIC COOKING costs a surprisingly small amount . . . only a cent per person per meal on the average. And think of the convenience. Just put the whole meal in the oven. Set the automatic time and temperature controls. Then go out and enjoy the afternoon. When you return you will find everything deliciously cooked and ready to serve. May we tell you more about the convenience of ELECTRIC COOKERY?

PRICES LOWER 80 YEARS AGO

The following prices may not be in line with Canada's experiences. The article is taken from the Sweet Grass Examiner.

Recently a diary written in 1845 came to light in which some figures are quoted, reflecting the conditions of what have been described as "the good old days."

In those days, the diary states carpenter's wages were 1.50 for a ten hour day. Carpenters then made coffins. A 7 foot coffin cost $7, a 5 foot coffin $5 and so on down to the smaller sizes.

Wood sold at 50 cents a wagon load. A load was considered a cord. A bushel of corn brought 16 cents; butter 8 cents a pound; sugar 2 pounds for 2 cents; coffee 3½ pounds for 50 cents, and potatoes 16 cents a bushel.

Eggs sold for 5 cents a dozen. Four chickens brought only 40 cents. Beef was 2½ cents a pound. Nineteen pounds of lard cost 95 cents. Five hundred pounds of hay sold for 75 cents. Pickled pork was 4 cents a pound. A fore-quarter of beef weighing 148 pounds brought only $3.70.

You would not be ashamed of your stationery if it had been printed at The Times office.

AIN'T NATURE GRAND

Dr. Blayne is suggesting a drive for bigger and better floods to be held annually. Early this spring he decided not to plant any potatoes, but since the flood his backyard is enriched with fine looking hills of potatoes, which he is tending regularly. Nobody knows whose they were originally and none of the neighbors can actually prove ownership. He says they are his because they elected to settle down with him—High River Times.

The New York Sun says that longer skirts may be worn this winter, and then again it may be just that skirts will be worn longer.

NO GREAT DIFFERENCE

Tom Eadie, noted diver, answering the question of what it is like at the bottom of the ocean says: "On a bright day, and on a sandy or gravelly bottom, you can see all around you at a depth of 120 feet. You can't see so far on a cloudy day, and on a mud bottom on a cloudy day you can't see anything at all and have to go by feeling. And the bottom of the ocean is just like the ground ashore. There are little rises, and little hollows. Perhaps there will be a rock sticking up here and there."

Smiles don't cost anything—that is, if you are careful who you are smiling at.

Suffered So From Constipation Had To Go To The Hospital

Miss E. G. Gee, Lake Francis, Man., writes:—"I was so badly constipated I had to go to the hospital and have my appendix removed. When I came home my doctor told me to take a laxative medicine to keep my bowels in order. I got a vial of Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills and found them very satisfactory for this purpose, as there are no gripping pains after their use."

Minnie and Mabel Johnson spent last week at Gull Lake.

KNOB HILL

The weather has been extremely warm the last week and the crops are beginning to need rain. It has been fine weather for the haying, though, and the farmers of this district who have any to do, have their almost all stacked.

Ole Boness is home again from Norrbuck, but is leaving shortly for the harvest fields.

Orton Hanna, from Coronation, is back on his homestead again.

Jimmy McLaughlin, who has been spending a couple of weeks at Pigeon Lake the guest of Carl Anderson, returned home on Tuesday.

Glen Carmichael of Stony Plain, passed through the district on Friday.

The Ladies' Aid met at the home of C. B. McLaughlin on Wednesday, where an enjoyable afternoon was spent.

Prof. J. Peterson of the Minnehaha Academy, Minneapolis, conducted services at C. B. McLaughlin's on Wednesday and at the hall on Thursday and Friday night. He was accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Peterson, of Water Glen, and Hjalmer Peterson and Miss Mamie Peterson, also of Water Glen. The services were accompanied with many musical selections. Duets by Prof. Peterson and Hjalmer Peterson, solos by the latter and selections by the local string band.

Mr. and Mrs. I. D. Bunney and Kathleen were Sunday visitors at J. A. Stone's.

The berry season is now on and there are quite a few of all kinds in the country this year. Berry pickers are to be found wherever there is a patch of berries.

BITTERN LAKE

Mrs. Bengston of Wetaskiwin, is spending a couple of weeks with her daughter, Mrs. V. B. Peterson.

Walter Smith was taken to the Camrose hospital last Tuesday, where he was operated on for appendicitis. The latest reports are that he is getting along nicely.

Armenia ball team came down on Thursday evening to play against our ball team. The scores were 17-1 in favor of Bittern Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Deval and Walter Peterson of Winfield, motored out to spend the week-end with relatives. They returned Sunday evening.

Vernon Hanson of Vancouver, arrived here Monday to visit with his aunt, Mrs. N. Holmstrom.

Mr. and Mrs. Munson of Edmonton, motored down Saturday en route to Gadsby, where they will visit friends. Mrs. Holmstrom accompanied them from here.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Deval and Mr. and Mrs. Howarth will go to Pigeon Lake for a camping trip this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Howarth, Mr. and Mrs. R. Elbert, H. Green and Miss M. Howarth, motored out to Pigeon Lake on Sunday.

Mr. W. McCoy of Didsbury, is back here with his gang, and is busy grading the highway.

NEW NORWAY WEST

Mr. and Mrs. August Dittburner and Mr. and Mrs. Matt Johns and family, returned last week from an outing and trip through the Peace River district. Miss Cora Dittburner, who has made her home there the past two years, returned home with them for a visit.

Miss Beulah Boreth is staying in Edmonton this week visiting relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Notes of Yeoford, spent last week-end with the M. McIntyre family. Mrs. J. Gilles, who has been visiting here, returned to her home with them, while Master G. Gilles is staying for a longer visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Butler are visiting their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Noah Solberg, at Ryley, this week.

Mrs. J. Shaw and granddaughter, Miss Marjorie Connery, spent the week-end at Lacombe, guests at the Archie Shaw home.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Treleven and family, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Reister and daughter Jean, spent last week-end at Pigeon Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Hope Orr, and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Roser, spent this week-end on an outing at Battle Lake.

Ralph Edwards of Calgary, came on Saturday to spend part of his holidays with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Goosze.

Miss Gertrude McIntyre is visiting friends at Millet this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Perkins in company with Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Dahl of Edmonton, are enjoying a trip across the line in Idaho and various Western States.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Elckermann, Mr. and Mrs. Harley Johns, Mrs. Matt Johns, Miss Eliza, Masters Chas. and Donald Johns, and Mrs. Carl Hoover, are enjoying an outing at Gull Lake this week-end.

It still keeps hot and dry. Fields of grain are turning fast. The crops are suffering from lack of moisture.

A large crowd enjoyed the lawn social at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Boreth last Friday.

Mrs. A. Johns is assisting at the A. Trussler home, helping to care for the new baby and mother.

TOWNLAKE

Jacob Danielson, a homesteader near Townlake, was found dead in the hay field, Saturday, by Rudolph Skogman, a neighbor. Mr. Danielson was an elderly man, and it is thought that he was overcome by the heat. A nurse was called, also the police, and a daughter in Camrose notified. A coroner from there removed the body to Camrose.

Mr. and Mrs. Thrasher returned from Edmonton and Soda Beach on Monday last.

Messrs. H. Johnson and John Olson were callers at the Francis home on Sunday evening.

FALUN

Mr. and Mrs. V. Nysted, and small daughter, Dora, spent several days last week camping at McLeod Beach.

Several of the Falun people attended the dance in the log pavilion on Saturday night, also the bonfire and midnight frolic on Sunday night. They report a most enjoyable time.

Miss Ingrid Holmstrom is spending a week at McLeod, the guest of Miss N. Timofeeff.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Mattson have, as their guests for this month, Helen and Lawrence Weir of Calgary.

With old Sol so hot these last few days, there are reports of several neighbors starting on their crops this week, as they are ripening fast.

Although it has been a favorable year for berries, they are very scarce in this locality. It is hoped that there will be a bounteous crop of blueberries out next on the hills.

Once again Falun came out on top when Misses Stina Karlson and Nettie Anderson attended the Women's Championship Meet at Calgary on Saturday. Stina took first in the junior discus throw with a distance of 84 ft. 5 in. She also took second in the broad jump. Nettie took second in the intermediate discus throw, throwing the discus a remarkable distance and right on the heels of the winner.

NAVARRE

The shower Tuesday night certainly cooled the air considerably, even though it was too slight to do the crops and gardens a great deal of good.

Little Eleanor Stielter has been spending a few days with Mrs. Marsden Sr., of Wetaskiwin.

Roland Wagar of Wetaskiwin, visited for a few days of this week with Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Nelson.

May Shantz of Cherry Grove, is spending a few days at the home of her grandfather, Mr. G. Thorsen. Messrs. Torsen and Islay are improving the house on their farm in this district, with a coat of paint, a new porch and various other alterations.

Henry Dewald and sons are digging a cellar under their house this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Van Deusen and Mr. and Mrs. Tilo. Marsden and family, all of Wetaskiwin, were Sunday visitors at the home of Mrs. Nelson senior.

MALMO

A well attended and interesting meeting was held in the Malmo hall on Tuesday evening, addressed by H. J. Montgomery, M.L.A., and Col. Godfrey Baker, under the chairmanship of Mr. Ralph Fuller.

Col. Baker spoke briefly on behalf of the Municipality, urging that the farmers get behind the Canadian National Railways Competition, and endeavor to secure first prize this year.

Instead of second prize, which was awarded the Municipal District of Montgomery last year. The cash prize received was $500 and had been devoted to the purchase of two recreation parks, which were being much appreciated by the people of the district.

Mr. Montgomery gave an interesting address dealing with many important matters of Provincial concern. The last session had been one of the longest on record and 75 Bills were passed by the Legislature. He believed a good alert and aggressive opposition was a splendid thing for any government in this Province or country.

He instanced several cases where the Alberta opposition was responsible for the curtailment of many items of expenditure through constructive criticism. The unemployment problem was costing the Province a very large sum. In 1931 Alberta's share of disbursements was $544,000 and for relief work $1,878,000, and notwithstanding endless conferences it would appear no salvation was in sight, and we were facing the winter with the possibility of increased expenditures for relief. The Turner Valley problem was touched on and it would appear that any action of the government to conserve the field only tended to squeeze out the small operator and benefit the large oil companies. The net debt of the Province as at March 31, 1932, was $135,000,000, an increase in one year of over $17,000,000. It now took 40c out of every $1.00 received by the government to pay interest and debt charges, and our present debt meant a charge on each family in the Province of $1000. The debt should not be further increased. We must pay as we go. For 1932 the very large sum of $6,827,000 was required to pay interest and debt charges on our Public debt.

Dealing with the matter of roads, the speaker pointed out that for the first time in the history of the Province the government was making no grants to Municipalities for road work. Last year this Municipality received $3500. He would favor an increase in the Gasoline Tax if the proceeds were devoted solely to construction of gravelled roads, and would support a policy whereby every dollar received from auto licenses and gasoline tax was spent on roads. The government was not doing this but was diverting a very large sum for other services. The telephone situation of gravelled roads, and it was pointed out that 7374 telephones were taken out in 1931, and the number left for use at Dec. 31, 1941, $2,752, 292 miles of rural lines were cut down in 1931 and 372 during all the years previous. The estimated loss on the telephone system for 1932 was $500,000, in addition to the loss sustained in Southern Alberta this spring of about $300,000, on account of a heavy storm damage. The government might be considering the imposition of a frontage tax and they had a report from a telephone expert recommending a frontage tax of $8 per quarter. This would yield about $600,000 extra revenue. He was in favor of a reduction in rural telephone rates, otherwise it would not be long before nearly all rural phones would be discontinued and the capital expenditure would be a dead loss. Better a half loaf in the way of revenue than no loaf at all. The natural resources only netted the Province in 1931, the sum of $375,000. The speaker thought we were not getting anything like enough out of their administration and would favor larger dues and royalties to net the people something worth while. He voiced strong objection to the government's proposal to adopt a county system in the Province. He believed it would mean increased administration costs and greatly increased taxation. Our present Municipal District government was giving good satisfaction and the cost of administration was very low and the convenience of having close connection with the Councillor and Municipal office would be entirely eliminated.

After Mr. Montgomery's address, several speakers took part in the discussion. The county system was opposed. Many other matters required greater attention. Leave any municipality a change alone and look after more pressing and important problems. The telephone department was not functioning efficiently. Large sums of money were wasted by employees throughout the rural areas, and too great a charge was made for services given. Very little expense was required to keep the line up between the house and the road, and it would be much better for the government and would make the telephones of real service if instead of three or four on a line at $2.75 per month there were 15 at $1.50 per month. The present monetary system was condemned.

The road across the reserve from Malmo to Hobbema had never been completed, and Mr. Montgomery was urged to do what he could to get the work done. It would take less than two miles of new road. He had already taken the matter up with the Department of Public Works and had secured the promise of a survey in the near future. When that was done and agreement made with the Indians it should not cost much to complete the road.

LONE RIDGE

On Thursday evening, this district was favored with a visit from our Provincial Member, Mr. H. J. Montgomery, M.L.A., who delivered an interesting address on Provincial matters. Mr. Kenneth Peterson was appointed chairman, and a large and representative crowd was in attendance.

Dealing with Alberta's finances, Mr. Montgomery stated that our Public Debt had reached such a large sum, $135,000,000, that it took 40c out of every $1.00 of Provincial revenue to pay interest and debt charges. The Dominion had to come to the assistance of the Government last December and advance over $4,000,000 to enable the Province to meet maturing obligations. We were therefore under the financial domination of both the financial interests and the Dominion Government. Not a very enviable position to be in. In addition to the direct debt, the Province had indirect liabilities of over $11,000,000, a great portion of which would ultimately have to be repaid by the Province. Then in addition there were railway guarantees of $32,000,000, from which the Province had not been relieved of liability. All these items amounted to over $178,000,000 and was a reason why our credit was not as high as some other Provinces. On February last a $5,000,000 twenty year loan was floated at an interest rate of 6 1/2 per cent, and in June another $5,000,000 was borrowed costing 6 1/2 per cent. In 1930 the deficit on income account was $2,300,000, and in 1931 when the actual figures were announced, it would be over $4,000,000. All of which had to be charged against our public debt, which had been increased by over $17,000,000 in 1931.

The telephone system was also getting in bad financially. In 1930 the loss was $150,000. For 1931 the figures had not been announced and for 1932 a loss of $500,000 was estimated. Telephones were being taken out wholesale, and no effort was being made by the Government to meet the situation. If telephones were taken out at the same rate it would not be long before the rural system would be a thing of the past.

The proposed county system was explained and Mr. Montgomery announced that he would oppose this change, as he believed it would lead to greater expense and much higher taxation. Our present system was working out very efficiently and economically. Councillors had an intimate knowledge of their entire divisions and the people were in direct touch with them at all times. The new district as it affected Wetaskiwin, would comprise the Municipal Districts of Black Mud, Montgomery, Liberty, Bigstone, Pioneer and Columbia, together with the three unorganized districts further west. The county seat would be at a central point, which would be Leduc, where the Municipal office would be located. The Councillor would represent an entire Municipal district as present constituted. According to the Premier's announcement it would mean a uniform tax levy both for Municipal and school purposes. It looked like the Baker School Bill which had to be withdrawn by the Government on account of its unpopularity. Only it was more far-reaching and therefore more dangerous.

After Mr. Montgomery finished his address, the meeting was thrown open for general discussion. The report amendments to the Hall Insurance Act were criticised and it was pointed out that the companies were taking an unfair advantage in adjustments, whereby the whole area was averaged, which might bring the loss down to 10 per cent, while several areas would be badly damaged or wiped out entirely. It was felt that if the farmer stood 10 per cent of the loss instead of the first 10 per cent, it would be a fair proposition.

A frontage tax on telephones was strongly opposed. If a tax was necessary it should be a general tax. It was pointed out that the cost of upkeep of the line between the house and the road was very small. In one case no repairs had to be made in 16 years. A rate of $1.50 or $1.75 per month would result in a large increase in the number of subscribers.

The compulsory use of lights on horse-drawn vehicles was not favored, and it was suggested that car licenses should be reduced quarterly. Complaint was made that it took three months to get the rebate on Gasoline Tax.

The proposed county system was unanimously opposed. Satisfaction with our present system was expressed. Greater interest was taken in municipal administration now than would be the case if the district was eight times larger. Taxes would undoubtedly be greatly increased. There would be no saving in the machinery costs. The grading outfit in the Bigstone district could handle no more work than at present. Information was given the meeting by Councillor Nelson that the Council of Bigstone had passed a resolution opposing the proposal for enlarged Municipal areas. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Montgomery at the close of the meeting.

The Edmonton Journal gives the following account of Sunday's game: King pins of Edmonton baseball, Henry Loyer's fiery Arctics drained a deep cup of revenge with savage glee as they eliminated Wetaskiwin from the Alberta championship race at Diamond park on Sunday.

Twice on his home diamond, the slim young Jeff Farewell went to the mound and whipped the Icemen. Yesterday afternoon the Arctics went to bat with blood in their eyes and laid down a withering barrage of hits that drove Farewell to the bench in less than two innings and sent the Edmonton champions coasting leisurely into a 10-4 victory.

Pitching his first game of the series at Diamond park, Farewell opened weakly as he apparently sought to get his bearings, and the Arctic pack pounced on him. In the first inning they pushed four men across the plate, and added two more tallies in the second frame before Cliff Olestead was rushed to relieve Farewell. The onslaught kept right on however and by the time the third inning was ended the Arctics had piled up a total of nine runs, while Scotswell had held the Athletics scoreless and hitless.

Two passes on balls, singles by Runge and Smith and a triple by Bill Montgomery brought in the four runs for the Icemen in the first inning. In the next frame singles by Green, Lewis, Fenton and Rosau netted three more tallies, while in the third inning, Smith, Scotswell and Lewis connected for a trio of singles that produced two more runs.

It was not until the fourth frame that Wetaskiwin was able to smash through the Arctic defence for a run. Alcher drove out a two-bagger to centre field, advanced to third when Murray Smith failed to hold one of Scotswell's pitches, and then came in as Ryan grounded out to Runge at first base.

In the following inning, Nichols scored the second run for the Athletics, getting on with a single, stealing second, going to third on a play to first base, and crossing the plate when Lundell came through with a single to centre field.

Wetaskiwin made its one and only dangerous rally of the game in the eighth, reaching Scotswell for two singles and a double that yielded a pair of runs. After donning two bases on balls to this sudden boom of Athletics stock, Scotswell settled down however and pitched his way out of the hole with the support of his infield.

The tenth tally for the Icemen came in the eighth inning. Green singled, stole second and scored when Lewis followed him to the plate and hit safely into the second base seat.

Scotswell went the full nine innings on the mound for the Arctics, scoring seven strike-outs and allowing eight well-scattered hits.

Fielding by the Arctics was errorless, while only a single slip-up was charged against Wetaskiwin, Ryan throwing the ball away in attempting to cut off a run at the plate.

though the waves were dashing high, we assembled just beyond the point where all was calm, about the camp fire. There around the flaming, crackling blaze, the waves rolling in, and the flashing streaks of lightning playing through the sky, almost every soul witnessed of the love of the mighty God, and told of His blessings toward us. On Sunday three services were conducted, which were very well attended and enjoyed by all. May God grant that the blessings of this camp may not soon leave us, but may it leave an everlasting impression. The parting words of Rev. Frank-

PIGEON LAKE BIBLE CAMP

The Alberta District S.S. and Y.P. Association held their annual Bible Camp at Buffalo Point, July 19th to 24th.

As the road is not yet completed, all had a thrilling motor boat ride before reaching our camp. The purr of the motor was a cheerful sound in our ears, and as the boat neared the shore the campers would gather around the pier and sing the welcome across the water. Almost unfeeling was the hearty response from the loaded boat as though it were our echo. Again and yet again the boat would return laden with campers, until the total enrolment had soared to 250.

This year used the collective system of serving meals. Mrs. Johanson, our capable cook, prepared delicious meals that tasted just like mother's own cooking. Never once did she fail to have them ready on time, and never once did we fail to answer the dinner gong.

The afternoons were spent in recreation of various kinds. Swimming, boating, softball, and games were among the outstanding amusements. Three motor boat excursions provided accommodation for all who wished to go upon this delightful trip. However, even the beach, shaded by the tall bordering trees, was enjoyed immensely during the hot afternoons.

Rev. N. Franklin of Minneapolis, Rev. Turnquist of Calgary, Rev. Joel Peterson of Minnehaha Academy, Rev. E. Anderson and Hjalmer Peterson, the speakers. It was indeed with the greatest interest that the campers listened to their lectures and messages of the gospel of Jesus Christ.

Every morning at 7:45 we would gather on the beach, just along the moss lined ridge, beneath the tapering trees to worship to the living God. Just as the sun was coming up anew, spreading its glittering rays over the rippling water, so God's love would fill our hearts afresh, for the oncoming day. At 10 o'clock we would gather at the tent for the morning lectures, which continued until 12 o'clock, with the exception of a few minutes recess between the changes of speakers. At 5 p.m. every day important question that arose in the life of every Christian were discussed to the blessing of many souls. Every evening at 7:30 we would gather for a short prayer meeting to prepare ourselves for the evening message. God's spirit did indeed work mightily amongst us at these services, and in those hallowed moments many souls found the Lord as their own Saviour and experienced the peace that passeth all understanding. Saturday night at 9:30, though the waves were dashing high, we assembled just beyond the point where all was calm, about the camp fire. There around the flaming, crackling blaze, the waves rolling in, and the flashing streaks of lightning playing through the sky, almost every soul witnessed of the love of the

POLICE DOGS USEFUL IN SOUTH AFRICA

At Quaggaaport, six miles from Pretoria, is the only government owned dog training station in the world. The dogs are used in police work, for which the African terrain makes them particularly suitable. A good deal of the ordinary crime of the country is committed by natives and other citizens on foot, and it is for the tracing of these malefactors that the dogs have proved valuable. An article in the Police Journal, of London, tells how the dogs are fitted for their work and gives some examples of their powers of scent. At the time the material was gathered, there were 140 dogs on the premises, most of them partly trained. There were also thirteen trainers and a like number of students, who are called learners. The practise is to train a dog or a brace of dogs at the same time an officer is being trained. When the dogs have passed the usual tests, they are sent together to some station in need of their services. They may remain permanently attached to it or shifted as is necessary. But one of the fundamental principles of the whole scheme is that the dogs or team of dogs, will work for only one man. He is the one whose authority they recognize.

The dogs bred for the police work are mostly Doberman-Pinschers, a German breed, comparable to our large terriers—a cross between a bloodhound and an Airedale, and some purebred Airedales. The last named, which we believe, were about the first ever to be trained for police work, are said not to have been so easy to train in South Africa, but once broken they make excellent officers. Perhaps the reason for the difficulty in training is that the Airedale is a most uneven breed harboring an extraordinary number of foibles. The article in the Police Journal notes that no matter what the breed chosen not all, by any means, will prove suitable material. It is a timely reminder that dogs differ as much as human beings and that the fact of a dog being of any particular breed means no more than there are certain particular faculties in which it may be developed. The Airedale-bloodhound cross seems to be the best, which will suggest to breeders that any outcross in live stock is apt to give new impetus of strength or intelligence, even if there is a marked departure from type.

This cross has proved easy to train and naturally the bloodhound strain gives excellent scenting powers. The Doberman-Pinschers are more excitable but quick to learn and excellent on the trail. A trained dog of any breed is worth $400. Naturally the greatest care is taken of the dogs. They are specially fed, have comfortable quarters and are never overworked. Their lessons never last more than an hour and a half, and they are trained by being rewarded when they do what is wanted and rebuked when they fail. Their curriculum consists of climbing ladders, swimming, diving, retrieving, and obeying signals given either by whistle or gesture. They are fed by their masters, and never permitted out of the kennel, except on leash. Nor are they allowed to trail or chase game. The only prey they are to know is the human kind, and for this, of course, they rely wholly upon their powers of scent. When they overtake their quarry they are taught not to snarl but to stand guard vigilantly with teeth bared.

After two months' training in the camp the dogs are taken to the surrounding veldt, and there get their first experience of tracking a human being. They have been known to pick up a spoor 72 hours old. It is interesting to note that the dogs do not follow in the footsteps of the man they are tracking, but trot always about 12 yards to windward. The Doberman-Pinscher follows a trail faster than an Airedale bloodhound, since it is a more active dog. Incidentally, it is found that quite as many men as dogs are unsuited for police duty. Experiments have been made with other breeds of dogs than those mentioned, including Alsatians and other shepherd varieties, but they have not proved as useful in the South African climate as the Pinschers, Airedales and bloodhound crosses.

In one of the cases reported a couple of Pinschers traced a quantity of stolen sugar and coffee, a distance of two and half miles, the trail at that time being 12 hours old. They came to a hut and marked and the police found the loot. In another case an Airedale-bloodhound cross and a Pinscher-setter cross were asked to trace a man accused of rape. First one dog was put on the scent and after it had led to a hut three miles away, the other verified the findings of its learned colleague. The occupants of the hut gave a description of a stranger who was later arrested and convicted of the crime. In a third case a Pinscher and an Airedale-bloodhound were used to run down a man who had stolen some cattle. The spoor was six days old, and one of the dogs followed it from 3:30 until dark and the next day until she became exhausted in the evening. Then the other dog took it up and followed it for 50 miles, in the end pointing out a man in whose possession was found sufficient evidence that he was the thief.

CONVERTING CHINESE INTO WHEAT EATERS

The 15 million bushels of wheat which the United States Federal Farm Board sold to China last year has made it possible, it is reported, the building of a vast system of dykes and levees in the Yangtze Valley for protection against floods, and at the same time has opened a substantial new market for wheat by converting more than two million Chinese from rice eaters to wheat consumers.

The commission which handled the distribution of this farm board wheat organized an army of over a million laborers who were willing to work for the wheat or flour they received. An enormous number of Chinese, it is claimed, have been converted into wheat eaters, because these people have learned that they can do more work over a longer period of time on wheat than they have been accustomed to do on a large quantity of rice.

BALANCING FARM LABORER'S BUDGET

Individuals also must balance budgets. The problem seems difficult enough for business and professional employees who receive $25 to $50 a week. But consider the largest group in the low-wage class, that of farm labor. Approximately, there is one "wage hand" on each American farm. Far from being back merely on a pre-war scale, the wage this worker receives is the lowest since 1902.

Farm wages without board on July 1, according to the United States Department of Agriculture, ranged from 55 cents a day in South Carolina to $2.50 in Massachusetts and Rhode Island, and averaged $1.23 for the country. If the farm laborer works steadily, six days a week, for a year at that rate, he receives $383.76. He can limit his budget to such indispensable items such as food, clothing, laundry, fuel and incidentals, all figured at minimum possible cost, and still end the year with no large surplus.

plus—if he is always employed. With one dependent, he has to do more saving; if he has a wife and small children, she probably does the laundry, sews and cooks for the family, and works at odd jobs whenever possible.

But this budget balancing becomes more difficult because of involuntary unemployment. The department has reported that at present approximately 12 million men are out of work, opening to hired farm workers. The day laborer is in less demand, partly because housewives have taken on additional duties and because farmer boys who went to cities for work have returned home. The average farm laborer actually budgets, therefore, not the $383.76 which he might earn, but something near half that amount under present conditions.

Farmers need not be blamed for paying low wages, although there probably are some individual instances of underpayment. At present prices for their products, one wonders whether farmers can make a profit on labor, at even $1.23 a day. A reduced wage factor for the laborer is that many land owners who produce more food than they need sell it to him at farm prices. Strict frugality enables him to eke out a bare livelihood. But his low wage and part time work makes his budget one of the most difficult to balance.

DOMINION EXPERIMENTAL FARMS EXHIBIT AT THE C.N.E.

(Experimental Farms Note) In addition to the usual educational exhibits staged by the Dominion Experimental Farms at the Canadian National Exhibition this year, a huge diorama is being installed on which will be shown the location of the 26 Branch Experimental Farms and the various industries of the Dominion. Agriculture, of course, predominates. The wheat fields of the West are shown, mixed farming and the dairy industry in the East are clearly portrayed, while the industries such as lumbering, mining, fishing, water-power, tourist traffic, transportation, etc., are all illustrated and each city in Canada is realistically shown in cut out relief.

Platforms will automatically rise from invisible openings in the picture on which will be displayed some of the originations of the Dominion Experimental Farms which means millions of dollars to the farmers of Canada each year.

Such valuable contributions will be exhibited as Marquis, Reward, Garnet, Huron and Ruby wheats, from the Cereal Division; Melba apple, early tomatoes, Banting corn, Ruby rhubarb, a new egg plant, from the Horticultural Division; certification of seed potatoes and raspberry stock from the Botanical Division; registered poultry breeding stock from the Poultry Division; an improved clover from the Forage Crop Division, etc. This diorama will be located in the Upper West Annex of the Coliseum and will illustrate in a graphic way the services being rendered by the Dominion Experimental Farms to agriculture and the assistance being given to the development of the many resources of Canada.

AMERICAN SAVANT STUDYING PROBLEMS OF PEACE RIVER

Following the footsteps of the modern pioneers of agriculture and land development to the fertile valleys of the Peace River district, Dr. Isaiah Bowman, Ph.D., D.Sc., director of the American Geographical Society of New York, stopped in Edmonton on Friday and Saturday before continuing on his way to the northern part of the province where he will study the problems encountered.

After spending years in far-away Peru, Chile, Argentina and Bolivia, Dr. Bowman sojourned for four years in the western states studying soil maps, the ethnic composition of pioneer communities. His book, "The Pioneer Prings" is a treatise on development of modern methods of agriculture.

Dr. Bowman spent most of Friday afternoon and evening with Dr. R. C. Wallace, president of the University of Alberta, discussing land use and settlement in this province, and outlined his theories on the best uses of land. Dr. Wallace is associated with the Canadian Pioneer Problems committee, which is composed of scholars and directors of universities and colleges in the east and west throughout Canada. Its members include economists, geologists, historians, and many agricultural experts. Dr. Macintosh, director of Queen's university, is head of this organization.

The American Geographical Society is a research institution engaged in investigating geographical problems. It has made a world-wide study of pioneer settlement.

SLANDER

(By Peter Mackenzie)

Do not use your tongue to slander anyone. If you do, he is sure to hear about it, and then you will be sorry. He who gives license to his lips will get himself into trouble. Remember the poet's advice to speakers:

If you would keep your lips from slips,

Five things observe with care— Of whom you speak, to whom you speak,

And what, and when, and where. Put the best construction upon every human action until a bad one has been proved. If anyone speaks ill of an absent person always believe that off the other side of the story were told it would appear a different thing altogether. No just man, or true Christian would think of judging an absent person without giving him a fair chance of speaking for himself. He is an unjust man who condemns another in his absence. How would you like the law courts to condemn you without a hearing?

When a man comes to you and says "I am just going to tell you something about Mr. So-and-So, but I would not have him know it for all the world,"

"Oh, if you are going to say anything about his character, there is a cab outside—shall we send for him?" If the man is as bad as you say he is, why, all the same, let us send for him and get him converted." You may depend upon it, the informer will run off at once, and leave you in solitude.

The trade of backsliding and slandering was begun nearly six thousand years ago, and those who engage in it have never taken out a fresh license. Tale bearers are always outward bound, never homeward bound. They are always looking down their neighbor's chimney, so that they cannot see his face or his character clearly, and no wonder they sometimes get the smoke and soot in their throats.

The next time a slanderer comes to you, just make a face at him as if you had neuralgia on one side and scintilla on the other, and let your whole family be suffering from a congenital attack of toothache, and, my word for it, he will fancy that by some mistake he has got into a hospital, and he will conclude the service without a benediction.

Slander is a deadly sin. Murder is its employment, innocence its prey, and ruin its sport. Slander is the revenge of a coward, and distasteful to his defence. No honorable man will secretly use his lips to tell stories to the damage of his brother, or his pen to wound another anonymously. A tale bearer is the devil's postman, hell's letter carrier.

The worst thing about slander is that the best people always suffer the most from it. The best and the ripest fruit attracts the wasps, and the nicest cheese the mice. It is always the very best cheese they go to. Slanderers are the rats in the granary, the snakes of society.

If anyone slanders you it must either be an enemy, or a friend, or someone who is neither. If it is an enemy take no notice—it is ill malice. If it is a friend, then he must be mistaken. If it is an unknown person, then you must pity him for his ignorance of your true character. Let the slanderers rub away, they will never rub the religion out of you; the more friction you have to bear, the brighter you will become.

OPERATING POLICY ALBERTA POOL ELEVATORS 1932-33

Alberta Pool Elevators will be operated during the coming crop year in exactly the same manner as was followed during the crop year that has just passed, that is to say these Pool elevators will be operated under public licenses, free to receive delivery of grain from any grain grower, and that Pool members will be given the option of disposing of their grain under any of the methods provided by the Canada Grain Act and obtaining the full market price for same or disposing of their wheat on Pool basis, accepting the prevailing initial payment and participating in any future payments that may accrue from the pooling thereof. Any portion of a member's wheat may be pooled or any portion sold outright for cash.

Definite assurance is given that no deductions for elevator reserve, commercial reserve, or for repayment to apply on the 1919 over-payment will be taken from the proceeds of any grain delivered for pooling or for immediate sale during the 1932-33 crop year.

HE SURE FOLLOWED UP THE WAR

The story goes that Babe Ruth once met General Foch, but I don't know whether he tells people about it often. It happened some years ago when he was playing in vaudeville in Baltimore. The manager revealed that the General was in a box and was going to pay a back-stage after the performance. Ruth was troubled.

"I've never met any of these big birds," he told Wellington Cross, his partner. "What am I going to say to him?"

"Just shake hands with him and talk about anything you happen to think of," he was advised.

So the Babe, impressed by Foch's fine uniform and military bearing, greeted him respectfully.

"Was you," asked Babe, by way of making light conversation, "in the war?"

FIRES THREATEN BIG TIMBER STAND

Pernie, B.C., Aug. 8.—Three major forest fires caused heavy damage to timber in this district during the last week.

They are still burning, and at least one of them was heading toward another valuable tract of spruce and fir.

The Sulphur creek fire, about 15 miles northwest of Pernie, has blackened several thousand acres of valuable spruce, and has worked north about 10 miles from its starting point.

Fire wardens reported lightning had started an outbreak in the upper Elk river valley about 30 miles north of Natal and that several thousand acres had been burned over.

The third blaze has been raging in the Flathead district, a McLaughlin creek. Damage reports from this area have been meagre so far.

JUST AS GOOD!

Ask Yourself—Is It?

When you ask for a certain line of goods, a line which you have seen advertised in newspapers—and you are told "Here is something just as good and cheaper," it is time to do some thinking. If there is more profit in selling goods not advertised and you are buying at a saving, there must be something wrong somewhere—and usually that is loss of quality—something left out that is THERE in the advertised commodity you originally asked for.

It is well to remember that a manufacturer invests his good dollars in advertising space because he knows his product is right. The fact that he advertises in newspapers so that "he who runs may read" is evidence that he knows his claims are right, and that he is ready to stand behind his merchandise and the stores that sell it.

HUGE WELLAND CANAL OFFICIALLY OPENED BY GOVERNOR-GENERAL

Thorold, Ont., Aug. 6.—Culminating nine years of effort, the Welland canal opened here $130,000,000 Welland canal. While distinguished statesmen from the four corners of the far flung British Empire looked on, His Excellency the Earl of Beesborough, Governor-General, moved a lever at the East Lock No. 6. A simple act in itself, it ceremoniously signalled the conclusion of years of planning, of engineering efforts and of strenuous labor.

The actual opening was preceded by brief speeches. Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, prime minister, spoke, as did Hon. R. J. Manion, minister of railways and canals, under whom the great enterprise was completed.

Today brought to Niagara Falls another special train carrying from Ottawa many more delegates, advisers and officials of the Imperial Conference.

Biastrate precautions were taken to guard Canada's overseas guests. Military, police and secret service men and other police officers in plain clothes were said to be on hand in case of trouble.

DIVES IN SHALLOW WATER BREAKS NECK, IS ALIVE

With his neck fractured as a result of a high dive into shallow water at Pigeon Lake Saturday night, Arnie Dickson, 24, of Calgary, Alta., is in the University hospital in a serious condition. His chances of recovery is reported to be slight.

Dickson nearly drowned after the dive, and was down in the water for two minutes before his disappearance was noted. A brother dived in and found him stuck head first in the mud and bottom of the lake. He pulled him to the surface and shore where first aid was rendered.

On Monday Dickson was conscious, but the neck fracture had caused a general paralytic condition of the body. He was brought to the Edmonton hospital by ambulance.

A Dr. Watson, resident of Florida, and vacationing at Pigeon lake, took care of him at the lake until the ambulance arrived.

One vertebrae in Dickson's neck was shattered by the dive, according to medical examination.

Two 11-year-old boys have died of infantile paralysis within 24 hours of each other in Calgary, one dying early Wednesday morning and the other early Thursday morning.

Mr. Briggs and Arthur Briggs spent the week-end at Pigeon Lake.

Rev. and Mrs. Young and children of Calgary, have been visiting at the Alken home south of Millet.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Harrison and family of Edmonton, were guests at the F. Pacey home on Sunday.

Miss Ruby McDougall left on Tuesday to visit at the Annery home in Edmonton for a couple of weeks.

Rev. W. T. Young of Calgary, preached a very interesting sermon at the United Church on Sunday evening.

The Misses Margaret Goin, Made Barrows, Elsie Ricketts and Gladys Piers, left for Pigeon Lake on Sunday, where they will camp for a week.

Ralph Pearce of Canyon Creek, passed through Millet on Monday en route to Edmonton and Gladys Piers, who has been a patient in the hospital there for several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Herb Pogue and Winifred, spent an enjoyable week-end with Mrs. Emmet Lambert and Patsy and Mrs. Chas. Herrault and Kenneth, who are camping at Pigeon Lake for a couple of weeks.

Mrs. Dear had a very painful accident on Monday, when she had the misfortune to get her hand caught in the wringer of the electric washer. Her hand was badly bruised and she received a severe shock.

A most enjoyable evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Pogue on Friday, when the Misses Josephine Inglis and Ruth Easterbrook, broke the farefare party in honor of Miss Mona Hamilton, who leaves on Wednesday.

POLICE HOLD 3 MEN, GIRL, AS SWINDLERS

A young woman, alleged members of a confidence gang, are in custody here while police are investigating their activities.

The names of the four as they appear on the police docket are John Bernard McKay, John Corbett, William F. McKeelvey and Gwendoline Corbett. Smartly dressed, the quartet were taken in hand by police at one of the city's leading hotels just after they had arrived in an expensive automobile.

Winifred police are in touch with authorities in Ontario in connection with the case as one of the alleged offences under investigation may come under Ontario jurisdiction. A wealthy Manitoba farmer is alleged to have been interested in certain stock transactions and induced to go to Sault Ste. Marie where he was defrauded of $2,000. It was intimated the four persons held might be turned over to Royal Canadian Mounted Police and taken to the northern Ontario city to face fraud charges.

HOW ADVERSITY REACTIONS

A general storekeeper and his wife out in a small town community wrote off $75,000 worth of debts from their books the other day—and told their debtors to forget it. At about the same time a chauffeur in New York, who owed two brothers $50, was lured by them into a dentist's chair, where all his bridgework was taken from him, and, after he had been robbed off all his clothes except his trousers, was left to shift for himself as best he could. Adversity brings out the best and the worst in human nature. The duty of brother-keeping is put to a severe test. The whole country is in the same boat. Those who exact their pound of flesh rock it. Those who live by letting and helping others to live, are casting bread upon the troubled waters that surround it.

There was a heavy shipment of hogs out of the Blindman Valley on Wednesday, a total of 423 hogs going over the leading platforms. The first load was sent to Regina and 59 at Duffton, and shipped to the Vancouver market. Mackenzie Bros. billed their shipment, which consisted of 51 from Rimby and 54 from Bluffton, to Montreal—Rimby Record.

The preacher, at the end of a stirring address, shouted: "Hallelujah! Those who want to go to Heaven!" A quiet little man remained seated, and the preacher shouted at him: "Don't you want to go to Heaven?" In a thin voice the little one replied: "Not immediately."

WESTMOUNT CALF CLUB SHOW

The Westmount Calf Club with 15 members around Millet, held its first calf club show on the West Liberty school grounds. It was an 100 per cent show, as all members were present with their calves.

The first part of the program was a judging contest conducted by Mr. Carlyle and Mr. Lyndon of the De-memors took part. This contest comprised of Agriculture, in which all sided in the placing of calves in three different groups, one of Jerseys, one of Holsteins and one of dual purpose Shorthorns. The winners of this contest were: 1st, Willie Haines, Wm. Rauts; 2nd, calves correctly; 2nd, Norma Neff; 3rd, Annie Howes; 4th, Eugene Marr; and Gordon Higginson and Emma Derrington for 5th place. Two members of the club will be chosen to enter the provincial contest. Choice will be made according to age and standing in the contest.

The show proper was in two classes, consisting of three Jersey and six and four Shorthorn and two Red Poll Holstein calves in the dairy class, calves in the dual purpose class.

The winners in the dairy class were: 1st, Noel Hesley; 2nd, Gordon Higginson; 3rd, Wm. Haines; 4th, Willie Haines; 5th, Sidney Ray; 6th, Howard Fulcher; 7th, Harold Ferguson; 8th, Jim Gray; 9th, Robert Ferguson.

The winners in the dual purpose class were: 1st, Helen Ruff; 2nd, Wm. Rauts; 3rd, Norma Neff; 4th, Annie Howes; 5th, Eugene Marr; 6th, Emma Deering.

The Westmount Calf Club was organized last in 1931 by Mr. A. G. Moore, Dairy Promoter, and the first officers were: T. H. Howes, president; Wm. Haines, vice-president; and H. A. Fulcher, secretary-treasurer. The club's first year has been a fair success, considering that it was a new experience for most of its members and officers, and they are looking forward to an increased membership and a greater success in the coming year.

BASEBALL TOURNAMENT

A fairly large crowd attended the baseball tournament on Wednesday, August 3rd, held on the Millet sports grounds. In the first game played between the Millet Scouts and Fredrickheim, the Millet boys came out winners with a score of 14 to 6. This was a very good game throughout. The next game, Fredrickheim vs. Conjurung Creek, was fast and close, each side holding the other down to very little scoring. Fredrickheim won in the end to the tune of 3 to 1. The next game was also close and very good, Leduc played their best game this season and took the game from Millet with a score of 2 to 1. This eliminated Millet and Conjurung Creek from the running, and left the playoff to Leduc and Fredrickheim. Fredrickheim seemed unable to get into their stride until Leduc had so many scores that it was impossible to pass them. Both sides played hard and with another inning or two to play Fredrickheim would have made Leduc work to keep their lead. Leduc won the finals with a score of 14 to 9.

In the game between the Scouts and Crooked Lake, the Lake won with a score of 11 to 5.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Page and family of Leduc, spent a few hours with the Misses Doane on Sunday, leaving Little Miss Thelma to spend a week's vacation with Mrs. Doane, while Mrs. Wm. Karr, Billie and Jimmie Karr, and Jackie Pettigrew are spending their week's holiday camping at the lake.

SAVINGS OF THE WIFE

"We have invited and we have received the retaliation of the nations. I propose an invitation to them to forget the past, so sit at a table with us as friends and to plan with us for the restoration of the trade of the world." — Franklin D. Roosevelt.

"I believe, thanks to the Imperial Bank Conference, that Canada and other parts of the British Commonwealth of Nations will lead the world out of the present depression." — R. B. Bennett.

"It is a fact that because the Bank of England has been allowed to do business as a private bank, a great deal of our present loss and of the trouble of our present taxation has arisen." — Lord Parnoor.

"The more I study the world the more I am convinced of the inability of brute force to create anything durable." — Napoleon.

Teach socialism because I am fondly hope, fairly sane. How any teacher of high school history and sociology, pretending to think at all, can still mouth piously the old fables relative to the two good old parties is beyond my comprehension. I therefore teach socialism deliberately, because the ideal of that doctrine seems to be more nearly in accord with the modern scientific approach to a problem — used every where but in politics and business." — Anne Templar, Dearborn, Michigan.

Farmers of Saskatchewan threaten that unless the government takes action in financing the purchase of binder twine they will be obliged to enter warehouses and steal it.

RURAL AND URBAN RESIDENTS

Of the population of Canada 46.3 per cent are rural dwellers and 53.7 per cent reside in urban centres. Ten years ago the proportions were 50.5 per cent rural and 49.5 per cent urban. The greater proportion of rural population is found in Prince Edward Island, where the country residents represent 76.8 per cent.

A GOOD FISH STORY

One of Wetaskiwin's bright young men reported that on Sunday last he saw a 148 pound flounder at Pigeon Lake. He said that was her actual weight when dressed.

The first conviction under a recent Traffic Act cost a man $10 and costs amendment to the Ontario Highway for driving too slow. He went 20 miles an hour and held back 10 other cars. He was ordered off the highway.

One third of the farmers of the southeast part of the province are not using butter on their tables, according to news from Taber. Pastures are drying and cream provides some cash, so some folks are holding back. Use The Times Want Ad. columns.

Pains In Stomach and Bowels So Bad Would Have To Sit Down

Mrs. C. Landry, Moncton, N.B., writes:—"I can certainly recommend Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry for cramps or pains in the stomach and bowels."

"Last Summer I had such awful pains in my stomach, and lower part of my bowels, at times, I would have to sit down. I took 'Dr. Fowler's' and was soon relieved."

"When my children were small I always kept a bottle in the house and it helped them wonderfully whenever any of them had bowel complaints."

Tell'em and Sell'em With Printers' Ink!

Possible buyers are best approached by means of the printed word — setups that "bristle" with appeal in their verbiage and illustrations. Our cylinder and platen presses will turn out that kind for you.

The famous Bonnet Brown Sales Service of illustrations which we carry in great variety and right up to the scratch in style will give the necessary "punch" in your commercial printing or in your newspaper advertising.

Queen Victoria related in her Journal that when she first entered Balmoral Castle, Scotland, old shoes were thrown after her for good luck. In Germany it used to be the custom for the bride to be attended to her chamber, where she took off her shoe and threw it to all present, as we today throw the bridal bouquet.

When you need printing in a hurry, When it simply must come through, When the job is mighty particular—Let The Times do it for you!

A new coat of tar and gravel is being given the highway between Ponoka and Red Deer. Although a little discomfort to motorists when newly laid, it is making a fine showing, and the work is being carried out with dispatch.

You would not be ashamed of your stationery if it had been printed at The Times office.

HAULTAIN JUNIOR U.F.A.

On Saturday, July 30th, the Juniors had the honor of entertaining Mr. W. Runtz, who is the Junior Director for the Wetaskiwin Constituency. Mr. Runtz gave an address dealing with the recent Farm University week from a boy's point of view, and also with the work of the Junior organization throughout the Province. A program of entertainment followed the address, which was well received by a large audience.

A very enjoyable evening was completed by the serving of coffee and pie.

BABY DAHMS

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Dahms of Wetaskiwin, passed away on Friday morning last, and was buried in the city cemetery.

We had a little baby once, She was our joy and pride.

We loved her here, perhaps too much, For soon she slept and died.

All is dark within our spiritual dwelling, Lonely are our hearts today, For the girl we prized so dearly, Has forever passed away.

Bill Slow and Henry Dash

Bill Slow's stock is all out of date, his business is in an awful state — no trade comes to his store. His ribbons, dress goods, coats and hats would scare a belfry full of bats, and cobwebs frame his door. Bill thinks to advertise would cost just twice as much as he has lost in waiting for a buyer.

But Henry Dash across the way, knows advertising's sure to pay — it draws crowds like a fire. So to our office he come down, for the best sales service in the town, announcing special offers. He gives his trade a chance to save; his profits he can closely shave — the volume fills his coffers.

Have our advertising manager call and show you this remarkable Sales Service.
